- Johnson, LouAnne , Teaching Outside the Box: How to Grab Your Students by Their Brains, 1st edition, 2005, paperback, 352 pages, ISBN: 978-078797471418 From seating plans to Shakespeare, Teaching Outside the Box offers practical strategies that will help both new teachers and seasoned veterans create dynamic classroom environments where students enjoy learning and teachers enjoy teaching.
- Mackenzie, Robert J., Setting Limits in the Classroom, Revised: How to Move Beyond the Dance of Discipline in Today's Classroom, 2nd edition, Three Rivers Press, 2003, paperback, 368 pages, ISBN: 978-0761516750. The theoretical bases of this book are partly tough love (say what you mean, mean what you say, and do not say it meanly), natural consequences (if a child makes an error, let them experience the natural consequences), and logical consequences (to defuse power struggles). The heart of the book is setting limits with kids and shortening down the time from discussion to action (from warning to consequence).
- Marzano, Robert J. Debra J. Pickering, and Jane E. Pollack, Classroom Instruction that Works: Research-Based Strategies for Increasing Student Achievement, 1st Edition, Prentice-Hall, 2004, paperback, 192 pages, ISBN 978-0131195035 This brief book presents research on the best strategies for raising student achievement through classroom instruction. Readers will find a wealth of research evidence, statistical data, and case studies.
- Mandler, Allen, Motivating Students Who Don't Care: Successful Techniques for Educators, 1st edition, Solution Tree, 2009, paperback, 80 pages, ISBN: 978-1935249672. With proven strategies from the classroom, this resource identifies five effective processes the reader can use to reawaken motivation in students who aren't prepared, don't care, and won't work.
- Nelson, Jane, Lynn Lott, and H. Stephen Glenn, Positive Discipline in the Classroom, Revised 3rd Edition: Developing Mutual Respect, Cooperation, and Responsibility in Your Classroom, 3rd edition, Three Rivers Press, 2000, paperback, 272 pages, ISBN: 978-0761524212. The components of Positive Discipline provide beginning teachers (and veterans) with a framework for creating caring environments in which children share in the problem-solving and decision-making processes.
